The U.S. Small Business Administration and computer manufacturer Dell launched an online video series to help small-business owners.

"Strategies for Growth: Advice for Expanding Your Business" offers tips from counselors, policymakers and others on how small-business owners can access resources. Topics include government contracting, business growth, marketing and technology. The series also features profiles of growing small businesses from across the country.

The series is available online at www.sba.gov/strategiesforgrowth and at SBA's YouTube channel, www.youtube.com/sba.
